To foster an appreciation of the quality and diversity of life on Cape Ann, past and present; To further the knowledge and enjoyment of Cape Ann history and art; To collect and preserve significant information and artifacts; and, To encourage community involvement in our programs and holdings.

In all our activities, the Museum emphasizes the highest standards of quality.

Dear Friends,

It is with great pleasure that we present our 2012 Annual Report. For 140 years, the Cape Ann Museum has embodied and promoted the rich historic and artistic legacy of our region. It is a legacy of which we are very proud. This annual recounting is both a celebration of the milestones we reached during the past year, and, we hope, a catalyst for future accomplishments.

A few years ago, as part of our Strategic Plan (2010–2016), we set on the path to become one of the best small museums in the country. We are pleased to report that we are on our way.

2012 was an amazing year:

• Membership, attendance and support reached all time highs due to your generosity and to the commitment of our board, staff and volunteers.
• We honored our maritime heritage with the exhibition Ships at Sea.
• We drew connections between Cape Ann’s creative past and the work of contemporary artists with the exhibitions Marsden Hartley: Soliloquy in Dogtown and Sarah Hollis Perry and Rachel Perry Welty’s water, water.
• We initiated the Fitz Henry Lane Online project, a “digital” catalogue raisonné, which promises to put the Cape Ann Museum at the forefront of Lane scholarship.
• We launched a dynamic new website which introduces our collection to an expanded audience.
• We embarked on new projects, including a collaboration with the Thacher Island Association to bring the original First Order Fresnel Lens from the south tower of the Island back to Cape Ann.
• We continued our successful Young at Art for Head Start and the History of Art on Cape Ann programs and introduced new initiatives, including CAM Connections, a program that uses art to engage seniors dealing with memory loss.
• As evidenced in this report, we collected and conserved historically significant art and artifacts.

All of us at the Museum are fortunate to witness the value of these efforts, which change perspectives, encourage further exploration, and inspire and delight visitors of every age.
Continued success requires investment in our physical plant. The HVAC, fire protection, lighting and security systems and finishes in the older portions of the Museum date from the 1930s. To be responsible stewards of our collection and to ensure the comfort of our growing number of visitors, updates are urgently needed. As we do this, we are excited about the opportunity to transform your museum experience. We will create a more welcoming entrance and reception area and design a new central gallery, which will serve as the educational hub of the Museum. We plan to renovate outdated gallery spaces, including the Fitz Henry Lane Gallery, which holds our premier collection, and to reinstall our permanent collection in fresh, new ways. All of this to better tell the Cape Ann story.

We have embarked on a $5M Capital Campaign to support this work. Over the course of the coming year, you will hear more about the Campaign, Reaching Out, Strengthening Within. In addition to our regular schedule of events – special exhibitions, lectures, artist demonstrations, guided walks and more – we will offer building tours to those who are interested in learning more about our plans. We want to hear from you and will do our best to keep you informed of our progress. Details on the Campaign projects can be found on our website at www.capeannmuseum.org. We look forward to sharing the transformation with you.

Sincerely,

Ronda Faloon

The Fitz Henry Lane Catalogue Raisonné Project continues to make progress. Original documents are being pulled from the Museum’s library/archives—most of them rarely seen by the public—and linked to a complete catalog of Lane’s paintings and drawings to explore the history of fishing, maritime activity and life along the New England coast. Project researchers are working in collaboration with the Museum’s staff and local historians to bring Fitz Henry Lane Online to the public in 2014. Board member Sam Holdsworth is directing the project. To date the project has received generous support from the Wyeth Foundation for American Art ($25,000) and the Danversbank Charitable Foundation ($2,500).

The two drawings above are examples of the discoveries being made by the Fitz Henry Lane Online project. When the Museum’s drawing Western Shore of Gloucester Outer Harbor was unframed, a second pencil drawing was found on the reverse side. In this second drawing, entitled Looking Toward the Loaf from Cross Island, Essex River, Lane shows a view of Two Penny Loaf from Cross Island in Ipswich Bay. In the online catalog these two drawings will be placed in context with historical information, maps, property documents and similar drawings and paintings.
EXHIBITIONS

Exhibitions are always planned to showcase the collection, to celebrate Cape Ann creativity – past and present, and to inform and engage our visitors. In 2012, we presented four major exhibitions and a number of smaller installations:

Ships at Sea
March 3 – May 27, 2012
A celebration of Cape Ann’s role in the maritime trades, featuring a selection of marine paintings, prints and ephemera from the collection of Roswitha and William Trayes.

Marsden Hartley: Soliloquy in Dogtown
June 9 – October 14, 2012
An exhibition of more than a dozen of the artist’s Dogtown paintings and drawings, featuring an overview of Hartley’s poetry and the history of Dogtown.

Rachel Perry Welty and Sarah Hollis Perry: water, water
July 14 – September 30, 2012
A multi-media installation and meditation on collaboration and the connections between land and sea.

Arranged by Choice: The Art of Ralph Coburn
A survey of the artist’s career from the 1940s to the present.

Into the Woods: Recent Drawings by Gabrielle Barzaghi

LIBRARY & ARCHIVES EXHIBITIONS

A Snapshot of Fiesta June 2012

A Stroll Down Main Street July 2012 – January 2013
Loaned to the Cahoon Museum of American Art in Cotuit, MA, for the exhibition A Family of Artists: Gruppé Family

- Charles Gruppé (1860–1940). Untitled Landscape, undated, oil on board (Gift of Mary Fay Somers).

Loaned to the North Shore Arts Association for their 90th Anniversary Retrospective Exhibition

Loaned to the Cleveland Museum of Art for the exhibition Eternal Summer: The Art of Edward Henry Potthast

The Museum’s annual program calendar is designed to complement its collections and special exhibitions. Exhibition openings, lectures, gallery talks, walking tours, film screenings and musical performances provide insight into the art, history and culture of Cape Ann.

BY THE NUMBERS
- In 2012, more than 9,200 adults and children participated in more than 300 educational and outreach programs offered by the Museum.
- 1,450 visitors were introduced to the Museum and its collections through docent led tours. Three hundred-forty (340) tours were offered in total.
- 3,400 children and families participated in more than 100 programs designed specifically for them.
- Students from more than 30 local schools displayed outstanding student artwork throughout the year in the Museum.
- CAM Connections was launched (see sidebar, facing page).

LECTURES, SPECIAL PRESENTATIONS AND COLLABORATIONS

The summer of 2012 was all about Dogtown! The Marsden Hartley exhibition, Soliloquy in Dogtown, provided subject matter for a broad range of programming, including a lecture series sponsored by Cape Ann Savings Bank. The series featured art historian Gail Levin; Marsden Hartley biographer Townsend Ludington; Anita Diamant, author of The Last Days of Dogtown; and Elyssa East, author of Dogtown: Death and Enchantment in a New England Ghost Town. We hosted book discussions in conjunction with each lecture as well as Dogtown walking tours in collaboration with Essex County Greenbelt and Trustees of Reservations. Other lectures of note were delivered by artists, authors, historians and art historians Karen Quinn, Mary Rhinelander McCarl, William Trayes, Joel Janowitz, Peter Anastas, William Cross, David Rich and Erik Ronnberg, Jr. We entered our 5th year of the Conversations with Contemporary Artists series with a talk by Elynn Kroger and a gallery demonstration by Debbie Clarke. We continued our lecture series Who We Are Is Who We Were: Historic Businesses of Cape Ann, hosting Cape Pond Ice Company president Scott Memhard. And, internationally acclaimed authors presented new works to our audiences, including Mark Kurlansky – Birdseye: The Adventures of a Curious Man and Barbara Walsh – August Gale. Gallery talks and special tours were presented by Jay McLauchlan, Trina Smith, Sarah Hollis Perry and Rachel Perry Welty. In January, a number of docents delivered the second annual Winter Shorts, a series of mini-tours highlighting their favorite objects in the collection. Docents’ enthusiasm also brought people out of doors to enjoy public walking tours: Fitz Henry Lane’s Gloucester and Hopper’s Houses.

Musical performances attracted record crowds. Emerald Rae and Flynn Cohen, Allen Estes and Mari Martin entertained as part of the popular summer Music in the Courtyard series. In the fall, Frances Conover Fitch enchanted an audience in the Fitz Henry Lane Gallery.
playing the harpsichord built for her by her husband Gregory Bover of C. B. Fisk Organs.

The CAM Afterhours program continued to engage new audiences. With support from Alchemy Bistro, Latitude 43, Ryan & Wood Distilleries and Mystery Train Records, we presented two special evening gatherings. Musicians Emerald Rae and Flynn Cohen performed in January, and dancer Sarah Slifer and musicians Brian King and Kristen Miller performed in August.

2012 collaborations with community organizations included: Distinguished Artist/Teacher, Goetemann Artist in Residency lecture with Rocky Neck Art Colony; Words Beyond Words: Behind the Page with Sawyer Free Library and Gloucester Lyceum; Artists and Dancers of Cape Ann with Windhover Dance Company; The Charles Olson Lecture Series featuring author Anne Waldman, in partnership with the Charles Olson Society and the Gloucester Writers Center; Captains Courageous Festival; Schooner Festival; Follow the Thread; and the annual Middle Street Walk.

YOUTH AND FAMILY PROGRAMS

The Museum was pleased to offer a series of programs in 2012 designed especially for children and their families. Highlights included the following:

Three memorable Saturday Showcase events sponsored by the Goldhirsh Foundation: Daughter of Winter Celebration with Native Americans from Plimoth Plantation and local children’s book author Pat Lowery Collins; A Celebration of the Sea with local singers David and Linnea Coffin; and Made in Folly Cove with the Windhover Dance Company.

Our monthly Family Fun Free Days grew in popularity bringing more first-time visitor families into the Museum than ever before.

Young at Art for Head Start, sponsored by New England BioLabs and the McCarthy Family Foundation, welcomed more than 30 visits from students in Cape Ann’s Pathways for Children program.

Morning at the Museum summer program sponsored by the Peter and Elizabeth C. Tower Foundation, served residents and summer visitors, alike.

The Cape Ann Museum is particularly pleased to have continued hosting on-going teacher workshops as part of the History of Art on Cape Ann Curriculum Resource Project, supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, the Gloucester Education Foundation, the Guttman Foundation and the Jebediah Foundation.
WE ARE DEEPLY GRATEFUL TO OUR FRIENDS AND VOLUNTEERS WHO PLAY A VITAL ROLE IN ADVANCING THE MUSEUM’S MISSION. THEY SHARE THEIR TIME, EXPERTISE AND ENTHUSIASM AND SERVE AS THE MUSEUM’S AMBASSADORS TO THE LARGER COMMUNITY.

Alfred Mansfield Brooks (1870-1963), long time president and curator of the Cape Ann Museum, was responsible for assembling what would ultimately become the largest and finest collection of works by marine artist Fitz Henry Lane (1804-1865). Today, the Museum’s Lane Collection includes over 40 oil paintings and more than 100 pencil drawings. The fact that such a comprehensive group of works has remained in the artist’s hometown is remarkable, a testament to Brooks’ vision and foresight.

The Alfred Mansfield Brooks Society was established in 2009 to honor the generosity of Robert L. and Elizabeth French and their gifts to the Museum’s collection and to serve as an acknowledgement of gratitude to the long line of donors who have shaped the Museum’s collection. The Society recognizes those who have made donations of art or artifacts to the Museum, who have pledged a future gift, or who have provided funds for the purchase of such at a minimum of $10,000 on or after September 2009.

Funding for these programs was made possible through a grant from the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency, which promotes excellence, access, education and diversity in the arts, humanities and interpretive sciences, in order to improve the quality of life for all Massachusetts residents and to contribute to the economic vitality of our communities.
With the death of Bernard Chaet last October, Cape Ann and indeed all of America lost one of its most distinguished artists and teachers. A man of great vision and talent, Bernie will be remembered for his years of leadership in the fine arts department at Yale as well as for his deep and abiding commitment to the Cape Ann Museum.

Bernie and his wife, artist Ninon Lacey, began coming to Cape Ann during the early 1950s and made it their permanent summer home in 1967. They chose for their living and workspace a simple clapboard house on Granite Street in Rockport just up from Old Granite Pier and Sandy Bay. The house had once belonged to the ancestors of fellow artist and friend Barbara Swan and, with its proximity to the rugged and beautiful shoreline that Bernie loved to paint, was perfectly situated. The gardens surrounding the house became Ninon’s studio and the site where an old ship’s pilot house once sat in the backyard became Bernie’s.

Visiting with Bernie in his studio after a summer of painting was always exciting, something to look forward to. Displayed within his modest workspace would be an array of drawings, watercolors and paintings. Images of Halibut Point, Cathedral Rocks and Bass Rocks along with breathtaking renderings of a blazing sun rising over the ocean or a dark sky heavily laden with cloud formations. The knowledge that we had been invited to the studio by Bernie to select something for the Museum’s collection and would be asked back again the following year was almost inconceivable.

Over the years, Bernie and Ninon maintained close relationships with many artists working on Cape Ann, relationships of which the Museum has ultimately been the great beneficiary. With his keen eye and his vast knowledge of art history, Bernie knew instinctively what the Museum needed to acquire to start laying the foundation for a strong contemporary art collection. In 1991, he began donating works from his collection to our holdings including those of Barbara Swan, Ralph Coburn, Reed Kay, Vincent Castagnacci and sculptor Lawrence Fane. He also began steering the Museum’s attention towards other artists who he felt should be represented within our collection. In many ways, Bernie’s nurturing of the Museum in terms of painting acquisitions was equivalent to Walker Hancock’s patient guidance in the area of sculpture.

In time, Bernie began giving his own paintings and drawings to the Cape Ann Museum. Today, as we think back on this important man’s life, we look forward to welcoming additional examples of his works into our collections and to celebrating his important and enduring legacy.

A PERSONAL TRIBUTE

The difference between his severe countenance and the real Bernie Chaet was extreme. He was one sweet guy!

I first met Bernie almost 20 years ago at an art colony where he was a “resource person” and I was a Trustee. Bernie proposed an idea to the colony’s Chairman of the Board: provide a prize to a student at the Yale School of Art, where Bernie taught, which would include not only cash, but a residence in the donor’s home to paint for two weeks. The Chairman’s wife wouldn’t participate, so I volunteered. Thus was born the Gloucester Landscape Prize.

Each year, Bernie would help to pick the winner. Then, after the two weeks of the winner’s painting in Gloucester, Bernie would provide a final “crit.” He would find only good things to say about the work, keeping negative observations to himself. The students loved it! Bernie’s paintings are exciting! Modest and unassuming, he was a great friend. The art world will miss him!

—Milt Lauenstein

Milt Lauenstein was an active member of the Museum’s Collections Committee for many years. In 2013, Milt and his wife, Helen, gave the Museum a collection of more than two dozen paintings created by recipients of Yale’s Gloucester Landscape Prize.

The Gloucester Landscape Prize

Designed to continue the long tradition of young artists seeking inspiration from Cape Ann’s summer light and air, the Gloucester Landscape Prize provides an accomplished graduate student from the Yale University School of Art a focused time and space for artistic growth and development. The Prize is now in its 19th year. Painter and businessman, Milt Lauenstein and his wife Helen fund the Prize and until 2005, they hosted the annual recipient. Museum President John Cunningham and his wife, Lee have taken on hosting duties.
